REQUESTS SOLDIERS BE ENTERTAINED IN PUBLIC, FREE PARKS

Col. Charles W. Harris, representing the federal government in the operation of the selective service laws in Arizona, has requested the committee on entertainments for the selective service men not to hold the farewell parties for the boys at any park where an admission fee is charged persons who wish to be with the men on the eve of their departure for cantonments.

The request from the adjutant general grew out of complaints that came to him following the entertainment of the last contingent of selective service men at Riverside Park last Sunday. The informant said that while the selective service men themselves were admitted to the park free, all others, even members of their families and friends who had come down to spend the afternoon with them and hear the speaking were charged to get into the park. Investigation developed that even one of the speakers of the day paid admission to enter into the park.

Colonel Harris took the stand that such procedure was making capital out of a national institution.

CHINESE CHEQUES NOT GOOD FOREVER

Why J. F. Savadera, the man who killed himself in this city last May after trying to murder a woman with whom he had been living, carried checks on a Chinese bank around with him, one for ten years and one for eight years will still remain one of the mysteries of the case. One of these checks, signed by N. Y. Childress and drawn on the Deutsche Asiatic Bank of Hong Kong for $1,572 was issued in 1908.

The other, for $20 was drawn by R. D. Mansfield on the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank of Peking in 1910, Justice De Souza, the acting coroner, who conducted the inquest of Savadera wrote to both banks regarding the checks. Yesterday he received a letter from the Hong Kong-Shanghai bank in which it was stated that the account of Mansfield had long since been closed. It was added that if it were not, the bank could not undertake to honor a check that had so long lain dormant but would refer it to the drawer.

The correspondence of Justice De Souza with the bank was not however wholly barren. He learned that letters even from China are censored.

FOOD ADMINISTRATOR FROWNS UPON COUNCIL OF DEFENSE'S ORDER TO MARK MERCHANDISE

FLAGSTAFF, Aug. 28.—In response to a communication from C. E. Addams, vice chairman of the Arizona Council of Defense, asking for an expression of opinion regarding recent resolutions adopted by the council ordering all merchants to mark the cost and selling price on every article, Timothy A. Riordan, the federal food administrator for Arizona, has sent the following wire:

"Referring to your letter enclosing resolutions requiring merchants to mark cost and sale price of each article offered for sale, have to inform you that we are working under a definite program and therefore cannot co-operate with you in such a rule. The expense attached to the plan proposed by you would no doubt increase cost of commodities to consumer and would be a serious drain upon man power, which the government is attempting to conserve at this time."

In explanation the food administrator stated that this telegram should not be construed as showing lack of a willingness to co-operate with the Arizona Council of Defense in all matters which are not in conflict with the national program of the food administration.

One decree of divorce was granted yesterday, but that did not help the docket any for three new suits for separation were filed.

HOUSEWIVES ORGANIZE; ADOPT LAWS; DIVIDE ON DEFENSE COUNSEL POINT

Between 150 and 200 women of the city and county were present yesterday afternoon at the organization of the Housewives' league in the War building, and they were there early, attesting their interest in the movement. A constitution and bylaws were adopted and officers elected. A set of resolutions was presented but the league divided on the question of approving the state council of defense in the matter of marking the prices of merchandise.

This and other resolutions were therefore allowed to go over to the next meeting.

The officers of the league are: Mrs. A. J. Henderson, president; Mrs. Harry J. Bennett, first vice-president; Mrs. James Goddard, second vice-president; Mrs. M. H. Sharp, recording secretary; Mrs. B. K. K. Younger of Ray, manager of the Ray Consolidated garage at Ray, is a business visitor in town for a short time.

The following constitution and bylaws were adopted:

Article I. Name—The name of this organization shall be the Maricopa County Housewives' league.

Article II. Object—Its object shall be to co-operate with the government to win the war and aid in food and household conservation.

Article III. Membership—Every woman in the county, regardless of creed, color, or nationality, who believes in and desires household efficiency, economical and careful home management, and co-operative community welfare, is eligible to membership in the league.

Article IV. Officers—Section 1. The officers of this organization shall be a president, three vice-presidents, recording secretary, corresponding secretary, treasurer and auditor.

Section 2—All the officers of this organization shall be elected for the period of one year.

Section 3—The first election of officers shall be by acclamation with nominations from the floor.

Section 4—The method of election shall be by ballot.

Section 5—An informal primary election shall be held one regular meeting preceding the annual meeting, at which time every member shall have the privilege of nominating for each office any member that in her judgment is capable of filling that office. The two receiving the highest number of votes cast for each office will be declared candidates for final election.

Section 6—At the annual meeting (one year from the date of organization and each year thereafter) the final ballot shall be cast and those receiving the majority of votes for each office shall be declared elected.

Article V. Executive Committee—The officers of this organization shall constitute the executive committee.

Article VI. Meetings—Regular meetings of this organization shall be held the second Monday of each month at 2:30 o'clock. Special meetings may be called by the executive committee.

Article VII. Amendments—This constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote, providing notice to amend be given in writing at the meeting preceding the meeting at which the amendment is to be presented, and the amendment is then taken under consideration until the next regular meeting.

By-Laws

Article I. Meetings—All meetings shall be open to the public. Only members, however, shall have the privilege to vote, introduce resolutions, and make motions. The floor shall be accorded to visitors for announcements, suggestions, etc., providing not more than five minutes be taken up on any subject with the consent of the program committee.

Article II. Dues—In view of the high cost of living and that now women feel unable to be a member of this organization, the dues shall be ten cents a year.

Section 2—Any member who is able and wishes to aid the organization in securing the necessary funds to be efficient and become a power may contribute whatever her purse allows. Donations from persons, organizations and others interested in and approving our purpose will be gratefully received.

Article III. Duties of Officers—Section 1. It shall be the duty of the president and the vice-presidents to preside at meetings in the order of their election. The president shall preside at the first meeting, the first vice-president at the second and so on until each vice-president shall have presided at one meeting when the president shall again preside and then each vice-president in turn.

Section 2—The recording secretary shall keep an accurate record of all regular meetings. The corresponding secretary shall keep in touch with other organizations of this type and keep on file articles, bulletins, etc., issued on the subjects this league is interested in, carry on all correspondence, with members, federal and state departments and all other agencies the league may have business intercourse with; keep on file copies of all correspondence sent out in the name of the league and file all originals received.

Section 4—The auditor shall audit the books of the league quarterly.

Article IV. Committees—Section 1. There shall be the following standing committees, program, membership, press, promotion, public market, staple foods, perishable foods, meats, fuel, wearing apparel.

Section 2—Membership on committees shall be voluntary. No committee shall consist of less than three or more than ten members. Each committee shall elect its own chairman. A member of the league may serve on as many committees as she is able to render efficient service to. No member shall be chairman of more than one committee.

Section 3—The president shall be ex-officio member of all committees and may participate at any or all committee meetings, but will not be permitted to vote for the chairman.

Section 4—The membership committee will divide the county into districts and appoint a member, who in turn may enlist other help outside the committee, to canvass each district and make an effort to enlist every woman in the county as a member of this organization.

Section 5—The press committee shall cooperate with the daily and weekly periodicals in the county in promoting this organization within the county, exposing the profiteer and supplying the public with facts as to the progress of the undertakings of the organization.

Section 6—The committee on promotion shall make every effort to spread the doctrine of organization of housewives throughout the state.

Section 7—The public market committee will wait upon the board of supervisors, city commissions and town councils and make every effort to have public market places established where the producer and consumer can meet and do business, eliminating the waste and profits of the middlemen.

Section 8—The committees on staple foods, perishable foods, meats, fuel and wearing apparel will study the market

The New Studebaker LIGHT-FOUR

APPEARANCE, economy, comfort, simplicity, completeness—with a construction which has earned the description "mechanically right"—these are the outstanding features of the New Studebaker Light-Four.

It has remarkable roominess for a car of its size. Driver and passengers can stretch out at ease. You can ride in it all day without feeling cramped or crowded.

And it is obviously a Quality car—undoubtedly the lowest-priced Quality car on the market. 40,000 miles of severe road-trials have proven its staying qualities and shown what the car will do.
